The Herald is sending out new subscription renewal notices, which may cause a little confusion until you get the hang of it.

To open the envelope you get in the mail, pull the left-hand addressed side loose. The flap will reveal the front portion of the postage-paid, return envelope.

Instructions are:

"Detach other side, insert remittance and seal by removing tape shield and folding over."

Your check or money order is inserted in the end of the envelope and sealed by the flap just over the open end of envelope.

Then just drop the envelope in the mail. The Herald pays the postage.

Arnett Zelisko, elementary principal, said the newcomers should bring their health and school records from the school they previously attended.

Red Cross Asks Funds For Coast

The American Red Cross is seeking funds to help victims of Hurricane Celia, which hit the Texas Gulf Coast Monday night and did extensive damage in the area.

An estimated $6 million will be needed, according to Red Cross officials and an effort is being made to obtain $1 million of the total in Texas.

Milam Countians who wish to contribute to the relief fund may send donations to Milam Co. Chapter, American Red Cross, H. D. Maxwell, Treasurer, Box 32, Cameron.

The hurricane, called the worst of the season, left 31 known dead - five in Cuba, 14 in Florida and 12 in Texas.

$1000 DOWN, MORE TO COME,' says Noon Lions President Bernay Dusek, left, to Cameron Mayor E. A. Perrin as he hands over a check representing part of the club's pledge for renovation of Wilson - Ledbetter Park. The club's park committee met with Texas

Parks & Wildlife Department officials to start discussion of plans to improve the park. Shown at the luncheon table are Gene Smitherman, right, and Wayne Mann, local Soil Conservation Service director.

For Wilson-Ledbetter... Park Planning Begins

Plans for renovation of Wilson - Ledbetter Park moved a step ahead Thursday when Noon Lions Club members met with Texas Parks & Wildlife and city officials.

The group toured the park and continued discussions during a lunch at The Texan.

A check for $1000 was presented to Mayor E. A. Perrin by Noon Lions President Bernay Dusek during the luncheon. The check represented first payment of a three-year pledge to help finance the project.

Matching funds will be sought through the P&W Department, which administers federal funds available for such projects.

P & W representatives from Austin meeting with the club's park committee were Bill Kopp, of the local assistance division of Parks Services, and Jim Watt, landscape architect.

Watt will work with the committee in devising plans for the development and improvement of the park. After plans are completed, a request for funds will be submitted to the P&W Department.

Committee members meeting with the representatives included Ed Laywell, James Camp, Gene Smitherman, City Streets Supt. James Hale, Wayne Mann local Soil Conservation Service director, and Dusek.

Other members of the committee are Dr. George Bowman, Monroe Fuchs, and Felix Matula Jr.

The renovation proposal outlined by the club includes plans for cleaning out and enlarging the lake, which has filled with silt. Plans also call for installation of playground equipment and picnic areas, and a general cleanup of the area.

Area Grid Stars Shine In Houston

Central Texas grid stars did their share to dazzle some 44,000 fans in Houston's Astrodome Thursday as units in the South team combined to upset the North, 35 - 19.

The event was the annual Schoolboy All - star Football game, climax of the Texas High School Coaches Association convention which opened Sunday. The 38th annual session reported a record attendance of over 5,500 coaches.

Cameron Yoe was represented by tackle Ronnie Richardson, one of three picked by South Coach Jerry Hopkins to start on both offense and defense.

Raymond Puente of Rosebud was also named starter in the corner back slot. His showing in the all-star camp was a big surprise to collegiate coaches, who considered him too small for college football.

His Panther jersey, No. 11, will be retired, the first in Rosebud history. Puente, who was a starting quarterback and line-backer for the Panthers, also had a great baseball season, hitting over 500.

Yoeman Headcoach Hal Stanislaw said Richardson and Puente "looked great" and added that he'd never seen a group play so well.

Stanislaw also cited the performances of Miller Bassler, 6-4, 190 pounder from Somerville, and Sonny Frazier of Calvert. Bassler caught several passes and Frazier caught two.

Housing Request Deferred

An application for 50 additional housing units for Cameron has been deferred by Housing and Urban Development the Cameron Housing Authority was notified this week.

A letter from HUD officials said demands for public housing had exceeded present funding and the request for 50 additional units in Cameron had been temporarily deferred.

Fred Starnes, Cameron Housing Authority manager, said work on the 50 public housing units presently under construction was about 80 percent complete and would probably be ready for occupation in the fall.

Cards Win 3rd In State Finals

Results of Cameron's Little League Cardinals bid for state baseball honors at Brownwood last week were a third place standing, a lifetime memory of three star spangled days, and only one lost sock.

The 14 Cardinal team members, Coaches Joe Lee Heltman and Joe Mondrik, Mrs. Mondrik, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goeke, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Michalka and Mrs. Louis Hollas, checked in to Brownwood's official Little League motel Sunday night amid the fun and confusion of about 120 boys from around the state.

All were in Brownwood to vie for the State Little League playoffs.

It was the beginning of three days of baseball, swimming and tours of Brownwood for the Cameron team. It ended Wednesday morning after a loss to Temple when Brownwood's Little League president bid farewell to the Cameron Cardinals saying "If there had been a sportsmanship award, you would have gotten it."

The Cardinals and sponsors shared five rooms on the motel's third floor, glad to have the noise of 120 exuberant boys under them instead of above.

The Cardinals took a first game defeat Monday morning and came back to win over Marfa Monday night to stay in the playoffs. "They had such a good time swimming and meeting other boys they were determined to win and stay," one parent suggested.

The Cardinals downed Odessa Tuesday morning 7-1.

Team spirits were at a high point Tuesday night when the Cardinals met Palestine. More than 50 Cameron fans cheered them on to a 14-7 win.

Temple, who defeated Cameron 11 to 2 Wednesday morning placed second in State and Odessa took first place.

Mrs. Albert Michalka commented "The boys were all well behaved, they had fun, but when they went to their rooms they stayed there. There was lots of telephoning between the five rooms, but they all obeyed the rules set down and we were proud to be with them."

City Master Plan Due 1st Review

A joint meeting of the City Council and the Planning Commission will be held Tuesday, August 11, at 6 p.m. in City Hall. The meeting will be open to the public.

A representative from South-west Planners, Albritton and Associates and the Governor's office will be at the meeting to discuss Cameron's Base Studies Report.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

School Board Meets On 13th

Cameron School Board will meet Thursday, August 13 to adopt the 1970-71 budget, not August 10 as reported in Thursday's Herald.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said all interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, set for 8 p.m. at Ben Milam School.

Court Asked To Consider Election Call

Two petitions asking consolidation of Milano Independent School District with Cameron Independent School District were presented to County Judge O. B. Harden last week. Milam County Commissioners will review the taxpayer petitions at their regular meeting Monday, and possibly set a date for a special election in the two districts.

Harden said petitions were delivered to his office by Daniel McDaniel, who lives in the Milano district, and Cameron Superintendent of Schools D. R. Dodson. The petition from Milano carried 49 signatures asking for consolidation. The Cameron petition had 34 signatures.

Harden said twenty signatures from taxpayers in each district are required on a petition asking for school consolidation.

Last year the Milano schools registered about 360 students (340 ADA count) and employed 17 teachers and administrators.

State election laws require that a majority in each district approve the consolidation. If the consolidation election carries a second election is required to accept bonded indebtedness of each district.

Milano School District has been taxing property owners at a rate of 20 percent of actual value until 25 percent increase was voted by Milano School trustees this year. Cameron school taxes are set at 50 percent of actual property value.

The petitions last week marked the second request for a change in the Milano School District. Property owners living near Rockdale had petitioned several years ago to be moved from the Milano School District to Rockdale. The County School Board denied the request at that time.

Harden said that since the Milano petition reached his office, two signers had requested that their names be removed. A majority of the signers live in the rim areas of the Milano District.

Both petitions call for an election for the purpose of consolidating the Milano Independent School District with the Cameron Independent School District, "the two districts being contiguous and lying wholly within Milam County, Texas. The newly created district shall be named Cameron Consolidated Independent School District."

South Milam Producer Files 49-Barrel Potential

White Shield Oil & Gas Corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma filed potential early this week on its No. 1 D. H. Perry, one of two wildcats it drilled several months ago in the Milbur Field in south Milam County.

Potential figures show the No. 1 Perry produced 49 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day from the Navarro on perforations at 3,449 - 680 feet on 20 - 64 inch choke under 100 pounds pressure on tubing after receiving frac treatment.

The White Shield oiler is located on a 250 acre lease in D. H. Van Veighton Survey six miles south of Rockdale and about one-half mile southeast of the old General Crude No. 1 Perry, a deep smackover failure drilled in 1958.

White Shield's second well is its No. 1 W. T. Hogan located on adjoining acreage in the Van Veighton Survey. Reportedly it also is a good producer, but potential has not yet been filed on it.

The Tulsa company, according to oil patch rumor, has plans to drill another wildcat on the Perry acreage in near future.

Two other tests reportedly are being planned for the Milbur Field but will be located across the Milam line in Burleson County. They will be drilled by Kee-see and Thomas, a pair of Farmington, New Mexico operators whose recent discovery, their No. 1 Arthur Praesel on a 200 acre lease in the John C. Walker Survey, produced 56 barrels of oil per day on potential test and opened a new area in the Milbur Field.

Both of Kee-see & Thomas' new tests are located near their

No. 1 Praesel and are dry holes drilled several years ago and abandoned by other companies.

One of them is the No. 1 E. Crump, Jr. Location is on a 276.7 acre lease in John C. Walker Survey. This wildcat originally was drilled by Clark and Refining Company in Buttes Oil & Gas Company in May, 1969 to around 2,900 feet and abandoned by them at that depth. Kee-see and Thomas plan to re-enter and clean out the old hole and deepen it to 3,500 feet in search of the Navarro.

The other dry hole is the No. 1 V. Miller, located on a 50 acre lease in the same survey, which was drilled by Teton and Leonard to a total depth of 2,815 feet and abandoned after finding no shows. Kee-see and Thomas will deepen the hole to 3,800 feet in an effort to pick up the Navarro formation.

AVID READER - Karla Wiggins left the others far behind when books were counted for the Cameron Public Library summer reading program. Karla, who will be a 4th grader this year, has 41 books to her credit since June. She is the daughter of Cameron Junior High Principal Don Wiggins and Mrs. Wiggins.

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

Eagle

I would appreciate it if you would comment briefly on whether to your knowledge there is any legal prohibition on the reproduction of a form of the eagle for commercial purposes.

E.K.
Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear E.K.:

The Department of State perceives no objection to the use for any purpose of an eagle in any form, provided the design does not include the distinctive elements of that of the Great Seal of the United States.

Russian Fishing

Please get those damn Russians out of our front yard. You drive two hours to Montauk, pay $10 to fish, and come home with 15 cents worth of fish. Scup fishing was very poor this season.

Dear W.E.C.:

We appreciate your concern about the poor scup

fishing this season. We have been much concerned about this situation and entered into an agreement with the Soviet Union on November 25, 1967, which hopefully will protect the interests of both American sports and commercial fishermen. This agreement is not perfect, but it has been of some help to American fishermen. We expect to discuss further fishery arrangements in the area with the Soviets shortly and have recently been conferring with American sports and commercial fishing interests and state government fishery officials on this subject. We hope that any further arrangements would offer even greater protection to American fishing interests.

Unfortunately, our catch data and scientific evidence concerning scup is not complete. Nevertheless, we will definitely seek greater protection for this most important species.

We appreciate your calling to our attention your concern in this matter.

Foreign Student Leaders

Is it true that you are in favor of permitting foreign student subversives to come to America? I am referring to Rudi Dutschke and Daniel Cohn-Bendit. Rudi helped inspire the student riots in West Germany recently and Cohn-Bendit was a leader in the French riots. Why would you allow these troublemakers to visit America? It puzzles me enough to write to you.

M.S.

Long Beach, Calif.

Dear M.S.:

An article on foreign student radicals which appeared in the August issue of Human Events raised questions about the possibility of their admission into the United States to attend a student conference. While several foreign student leaders participated in the National Student Association Conference, neither Dutschke nor Cohn-Bendit sought visas to attend. Accordingly, the Department of State made no decision for or against granting them temporary admission to the United States.

Our nation's laws describe some 31 categories of aliens who are ineligible to come to the United States. They do not allow the exclusion of those who, though perhaps objectionable, are eligible under the law. Our laws even provide that an applicant who is technically ineligible may be permitted, by a special waiver, to come briefly to this country for purposes such as tourism, attending conferences, or performing in the arts. The granting of such a waiver is carefully considered in light of all factors bearing on the matter, and a decision is made accordingly.

The decision to admit or exclude public or controversial foreign figures found to be ineligible is normally made at a high level. The memorandum quoted in the article made no argument for a specific decision with regard to Mr. Dutschke and Mr. Cohn-Bendit.

You Don't Say . . .

SUBLIMATE

If you are referring to inspiring awe, deep emotion, moving. That which is noble, grand, solemn.

SUBLIME is correct for this meaning.

SUBLIMATE means to convert undesirable energies into desirable energies into desirable activities. For example if a man's criminal characteristics or energies are diverted into constructive channels his criminal activities are said to have been SUBLIMATED.

Santa Fe To Use Guard Dogs

Guard dogs will be used by Santa Fe Railway to aid its special agents in providing protective services in yard and warehouse areas, the railroad announced today.

John L. Hastings, manager of Better Freight Handling and Special Service, Chicago, said the dogs will work on a leash with handlers, mostly at nights.

"We anticipate that knowledge of the dogs presence in areas where we have experienced some difficulty with malicious trespassers will act as a deterrent," he predicted.

Initially Santa Fe has secured three dogs and trained three men to work with them, and the force will be expanded in the near future.

First assignment will be in the greater Chicago area, Fort Worth-Dallas area and San Francisco Bay area, although the teams will be available for spot duty in other areas as needed.

Coming Of Age . . .

Cameron summer baseball did quite well in playoff competition, one team going to the final four in Little League state finals and another going to the regional finals in Pony League competition.

If these are not reason enough to propel, not merely put baseball back into Yoe High School sports, we see no reason to any of Cameron's sports program.

This is the second "other" sport within six months which has brought Cameron broad recognition. The other, of course, was basketball, when the Yoemen went to the AA regional for the first time in a student generation this winter.

More than 200 youngsters yearly play some kind of summer baseball. And it is good judgment to keep these youngsters playing competitive baseball after all that training and summer fun and all that enthusiasm from hundreds, if not in total thousands of spectators.

So baseball too comes into its own in Cameron. And the sport promises a good following for years to come in high school competition.

Cost Of Hurricanes . . .

Celia, the powerful hurricane that turned her fury on Corpus Christi and smaller Gulf Coast cities to the south, is one of a series of violent storms hitting Texas in a decade.

Carla is well remembered in Cameron when that blast struck the Gulf Coast in September, 1961, and sent tens of thousands inland, including more than 1,500 housed in Cameron several days.

Others include Audrey (June, 1957), Cindy (September, 1963), and Beulah (September, 1967).

Celia arrived a month early, by the normal timetable of Texas hurricanes. But her devastation was probably the worst since the Galveston storm in September, 1900, which cost thousands of lives and brought the construction of that island city's seawall. The same storm, incidentally, caused Galveston to be the first city in the country to reorganize its city government into a manager - council system, introducing professional management in a day when most small cities had mayor - council plans.

Cost in Celia's storm damage is estimated somewhere between one-half and a billion dollars. The Corpus Christi Caller-Times, for example, lost a quarter - million dollars in newsprint and had to print limited editions in San Antonio.

That is only one result of a tremendous wind that cost more than 30 lives. Towns like Aransas Pass, about 7,000, were leveled.

It is the kind of fury Gulf Coast residents anticipate in living along the Gulf of Mexico. Sometimes, it is a high cost for the advantages of sun and water.

CAMERON'S PARADE OF SPORTS

MUSIC - Have you ever listened to a great symphony orchestra or maybe a good Dixieland band? Wonderful music! But -- if you have never been on a wolf hunt on a clear, crisp night you have missed some great music. When that old lead hound strikes that wolf the music starts. Baying at every leap and bound the pack gets down to the business of catching the wolf. Something about a pack of good voiced hounds sends a thrill down a man's back. Now let's go wolf hunting with "Bo" Jenness and his friends. Jenness has been wolf hunting since he was a boy. The wolf pictured here ran for two hours and 15 minutes before he was caught near Salem. The picture was taken at night by Bo Titsworth right after the wolf was caught. Jenness just recently lost a good hound killed by a wolf. The dog, "Smokey Joe" was sired by an outstanding wolf dog from Oklahoma. Pictured left to right, Vaughn (BO) Jenness, Joe Kirk, Roy Mauldin of Belton, and Tim Titsworth.

Laura Angell was flower girl and Kyle Barrett was ring bearer.

Dennis Chapman of Corsicana served as best man. Groomsman were Johnny McLerran of Dallas, Terry Watson of Clifton, Jim Lafferty, Dale Lafferty, Griffin Barrett and Littleton Barrett, both brothers of the groom, also served as candle-lighters.

MRS. JIMMIE FRANK KOPRIVA

Miss Judy Young Weds Jimmie Kopriva

Miss Judy Darlene Young and Mr. Jimmie Frank Kopriva were married at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 18, in a double ring ceremony at St. Monica's Catholic Church, Cameron.

Pork Sausage Spices Hamburger Patties For Summer Cookouts

America must be the only place on earth where in the summer small boys are heard to groan "Aw, Mom -- steak again?" Actually, many outdoor cooks do fall into the habit of fixing hamburgers or steaks exclusively -- and it can become tiresome for some members of the family.

But the possibilities for main-course variety in outdoor cooking are limited only by our imaginations and palates. Entertainer Jimmy Dean -- who also raises virus-free "SPF" hogs and manufactures low-fat pork sausage in his home town of Plainview, Texas -- came up with the idea of mixing his product with hamburger meat in order to get a tastier patty for backyard cooking.

He got former Mrs. America, Joy Noufer (now a Houston television personality) to formulate a basic recipe for what has since been dubbed "Deanburgers" -- and in the process started Joy on the development of what has become a whole series of delicious indoor and outdoor dishes based on hamburger meat and pork sausage.

The idea of serving pork in the summertime, of course, used to be completely foreign to many homemakers. And -- back in the days when most hogs were garbage-fed, less healthy animals and the sciences of packing and transporting meat were not as advanced as today -- there may have been some justification for making the taste of pork a fall-through-spring pleasure only.

But this is 1970. The meat-producing industry has come a long way, and the pork sausages available to you today are a far cry from what your mother could buy. The ones marked "SPF" on their labels are particularly advanced. These initials stand for "Specific Pathogen Free", and refer to the absence of disease-causing forms of virus in the animals that went into the sausage.

In a classic SPF hog-raising operation the animals used to start the herd are taken by Caesarian section (to break the mother-to-offspring transfer of virus) and raised in a sterile environment, never touching outside, germ-laden ground. They and their equally virus-free offspring are fed carefully-calculated combinations of grain, supplements and vitamins. They receive appropriate injections of vaccines exactly on schedule, and live in air-conditioned comfort. They are extremely healthy, and build good, solid meat quickly. Meat that can end up in such family-pleasing dishes as these:

MILE AFTER MILE of 3/8 inch redraw rod is wound, packed shipped, and formed into various kinds of aluminum conductor. Customers for this product don't want slivers or wire that is not round. (Alcoa Photo)

Alcoa's RW Sets Record Redraw Rod Production

The month of July saw Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works wrap up a plant record in the production of 3/8 inch redraw rod -- used in the highly competitive electrical conductor market.

According to Production Manager H. A. Bower: "We are extremely pleased with the increase in demand for this product, coming at a time when competition for aluminum customers is quite heavy."

The substantial increase in orders came because efforts of Rockdale Alcoans proved to the company that the local plant could produce quality rod at a competitive cost.

Most of Rockdale's July record production of redraw rod went to the company's Marshall (Texas) Works; however, a substantial amount went directly to a customer in Mexico.

Rockdale Works 3/8 inch redraw rod is used mainly in insulated low voltage wire or high voltage bare cable applications and is part of Alcoa's directed effort to penetrate markets previously dominated by conductors made of other metals.

Aluminum is particularly desirable in products that distribute, control, and consume power because of the conductance-weight ratio advantage of aluminum over copper; and, because users can rely on the stable source of aluminum supply.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS
Bertram S. Brown, M. D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Professional Training
Intensified training in the prevention and treatment of drug abuse is an essential component of the President's expansion of Federal programs to fight this devastating problem.
In a major aspect of its professional training in mental health and related fields, the National Institute of Mental Health is accelerating its training activities in drug abuse with supplemental funding of $1,000,000 in fiscal year 1970.
Four areas for intensive training were established:
... Training of professional workers and allied assistants to work in the drug field;
... Training of health and social service personnel to provide counsel and advice to people who misuse or abuse drugs;
... Preparation of innovative training materials for teachers who are working in the attack on drug abuse; and
... Development and dissemination of professional materials for practicing members of the various health, education, and welfare professions.
Priority projects in the intensified effort include four-week training courses, stressing classroom and in-the-field clinical training, with the courses held at four specialized training centers attached to community treatment facilities.
Another program involves short-term or continuing education courses designed to enable 1,000 key health personnel to obtain special training.

Films, other audio-visual materials, tapes, guides, and resource books for teachers are also being produced as part of the program. These are for distribution in cooperation with the Office of Education through the newly created National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information.
In addition to materials for school teachers, the program includes the production and dissemination of materials geared to the needs of professional workers in health and social agencies.
This supplemental program is aimed to help step up the overall attack on drug abuse. It represents, however, only a small component of the overall professional training program in the field of drug abuse supported by cooperating Federal departments and agencies. The total program is providing skilled manpower which is of essential importance to solving the drug abuse problem.

Kubiak To Preview Legislation

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale will address the Calvert Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 11, in Calvert. He will speak on "What's Ahead for the 62nd Legislature."
Some of the controversial bills to be introduced early in the session will include:
1. - a bill to provide aid to private and parochial schools.
2. - a bill to re-structure the property tax assessments for school districts in the State of Texas.
3. - a bill to minimize the punishment for possessors of marijuana and increase punishment for the pushers thereof.
4. - a bill to allow teachers to negotiate lifetime contracts.
5. - a bill to liberalize abortion laws in Texas.
6. - a bill to require insurance companies to use investment income in computing automobile insurance rates.
7. - a bill to provide equal rights for women.
A former teacher and a member of the 61st Legislature representing Falls, Milam and Robertson Counties, Rep. Kubiak served on the Agriculture, Parks and Wildlife, Public Education, Penitentiaries and School Districts Committees.
He is now serving on the interim committee studying the feasibility of a Four - Quarter School System in the State of Texas.

Summer Chefs
When the children are out of school for summer vacation, let them help cook. They'll enjoy fixing their own lunch when a tasty but easy recipe is provided! Let them slice frankfurters in thin circles and places on bread slices spread with butter, margarine or mustard. Next, the sandwiches are topped with cheese slices, either American or Swiss, before they go under the broiler until the cheese is bubbly hot.

Frankly, It's Time to Use Versatile Franks In a Variety of Novel, Delicious Ways

Hot Dog Month may happen every July but that's no reason for the same few frankfurter dishes to happen to come to the table. Variety is limitless since the frankfurter makes happy combinations with so many other foods.

For three new frankfurter ideas, Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests trying the following recipes. One is a tasty but easy take-off on the pizza; another combines chopped frankfurters, cucumber, green pepper and almonds on a bun. The third is a concoction comprising the traditional frank and sauerkraut pair with new seasoning.

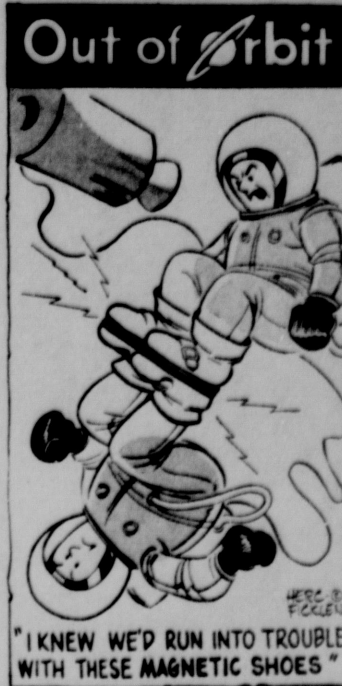

Frankfurter Pizzas
1 pound frankfurters, cut into 1/4-inch slices
5 large hamburger buns or English muffins
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon sweet basil
1/2 teaspoon leaf oregano
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Split buns or muffins and toast cut side. Combine tomato sauce, garlic, basil, oregano and mushroom stems and pieces. Add frankfurters. Spoon 1/3 cup mixture on each toasted half. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 10 minutes. 5 servings.

South Seas Sandwich
8 to 10 frankfurters, finely chopped
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/4 cup peeled, chopped cucumber
2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons catsup
6 frankfurter buns
Combine all ingredients except buns. Mix well. Spread mixture between buns, allowing about 1/3 cup per bun. Wrap each bun in aluminum foil. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 10 minutes. 6 sandwiches.

Barbecued Franks-Kraut
8 to 10 frankfurters,

scored spiral fashion
2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3/4 cup chili sauce
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (27 ounces) sauerkraut, drained
Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and green pepper and cook until tender. Add frankfurters and brown lightly. Combine chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and salt. Add to frankfurters. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Spoon sauerkraut into 2-quart casserole.

Joe Grabener of Rockdale was assessed a two - year probated sentence after he pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with driving while intoxicated - subsequent offense. Judge W. C. Wallace set his fine at $350 plus court costs.

Also assessed a two - year probated sentence was James William Riley of San Antonio. The 17 year old pleaded guilty to the offense of felony theft of an automobile. His sentence included payment of $50 restitution. Supervision of his probation was transferred to Bexar County.

The County Attorney has filed a motion asking the District Judge to revoke Snow's probation and a hearing on this motion is set for Friday, August 29, Henderson said.

Occupations Now Open To Women Apprentices

WASHINGTON

"Why Not Be An Apprentice?" is the question put to young women in a new Department of Labor leaflet prepared by the Women's Bureau.

"We are excited about this leaflet which is part of our program to increase the number of women in apprenticeships," Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Koontz, Director of the Women's Bureau, said.

"In cooperation with the Bureau of Apprenticeship Training, we are working to interest employers, labor organizations and prospective trainees in opportunities for women in apprenticeship trades which traditionally have been reserved for men. There was a 72 percent increase in the number of women in apprenticeship programs registered with Manpower Administration in 1969."

Present - day technology is creating job opportunities unheard of before for women apprentices in the skilled trades and in technician and service occupations, the leaflet reports.

Women are in more than 60 occupations out of the 370 offering apprenticeship training toward a career as a skilled worker. These include pharmaceutical laboratory technician, gyro repairer, dental laboratory technician, electronic computer repairer, aircraft instrument mechanic, compositor, baker, barber, tailor, upholsterer, dry-cleaner, and chef.

Apprentices receive a combination of on-the-job training and related classroom instruction, and at the end of the training period - generally 2 to 4 years - are skilled workers, or journeymen.

While trainees learn and work they also earn. The starting salary is about half the wage paid the skilled worker in the particular industry, and a pay raise is guaranteed every 6 months. During the last half year of training, an apprentice receives at least 90 percent of the journeyman's basic wage.

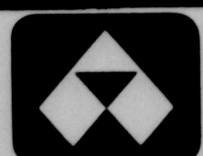

Copies of "Why Not Be An Apprentice?" are available at 10 cents each, with a 25 percent discount on orders of 100 or more, from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

The Herald is sending out new subscription renewal notices, which may cause a little confusion until you get the hang of it. To open the envelope you get in the mail, pull the left-hand addressed side loose. The flap will reveal the front portion of the postage-paid, return envelope.

Turn the envelope over where it tells the amount owed and the date your subscription expires. On the left side you will see instructions on how to make your remittance and how to seal the envelope for return. You do not need a stamp - postage is free.

Instructions are: "Detach other side, insert remittance and seal by removing tape shield and folding over." Your check or money order is inserted in the end of the envelope and sealed by the flap just over the open end of envelope.

Then just drop the envelope in the mail. The Herald pays the postage.

If you receive a notice shortly after you have renewed your subscription, just disregard the notice. It will not be necessary to contact The Herald office.

$1000 DOWN, MORE TO COME, says Noon
Lions President Bernay Dusek, left, to Cameron Mayor E. A. Perrin as he hands over a check representing part of the club's pledge for renovation of Wilson - Ledbetter Park.
The club's park committee met with Texas

Parks & Wildlife Department officials to start discussion of plans to improve the park. Shown at the luncheon table are Gene Smitherman, right, and Wayne Mann, local Soil Conservation Service director.

For Wilson-Ledbetter... Park Planning Begins

Plans for renovation of Wilson - Ledbetter Park moved a step ahead Thursday when Noon Lions Club members met with Texas Parks & Wildlife and city officials.

The group toured the park
and continued discussions during a lunch at The Texan.

A check for $1000 was presented to Mayor E. A. Perrin
by Noon Lions president Bernay Dusek during the luncheon.
The check represented first payment of a three-year pledge to help finance the project.

Matching funds will be sought
through the P&W Department, which administers federal funds available for such projects.

P & W representatives from Austin meeting with the club's park committee were Bill Kopp, of the local assistance division of Park Services, and Jim Watt, landscape architect.

Watt will work with the committee in devising plans for the development and improvement of the park. After plans are completed, a request for funds will be submitted to the P&W Department.

Committee members meeting with the representatives included
Ed Laywell, James Camp, Gene Smitherman, City Streets Supt.
James Hale, Wayne Mann local Soil Conservation Service director, and Dusek.

Other members of the committee are Dr. George Bowman, Monroe Fuchs, and Felix Matula Jr.

lined by the club includes plans for cleaning out and enlarging the lake, which has filled with silt. Plans also call for installation of playground equipment and picnic areas, and a general cleanup of the area.

Area Grid Stars Shine In Houston

Central Texas grid stars did their share to dazzle some 44,- 000 fans in Houston's Astrodome Thursday as units in the South team combined to upset the North, 35 - 19.

The event was the annual Schoolboy All - star Football game, climax of the Texas High School Coaches Association convention which opened Sunday. The 38th annual session reported a record attendance of over 5,500
coaches.

Cameron Yoe was represented by tackle Ronnie Richardson, one of three picked by South Coach Jerry Hopkins to start on both offense and defense.

Raymond Puente of Rosebud was also named starter in the corner back slot. His showing in the all-star camp was a big surprise to collegiate coaches, who considered him too small for college football.

His Panther jersey, No. 11, will be retired, the first in Rose-bud history. Puente, who was a starting quarterback and linebacker for the Panthers, also had a great baseball season, hitting over 500.

Yoeman Headcoach Hal Stanis-
law said Richardson and Puente "looked great" and added that he'd never seen a group play so well.

Stanislaw also cited the performances of Miller Bassler, 6-4, 190 pounder from Somerville, and Sonny Frazier of Calvert. Bassler caught several passes and Frazier caught two.

A large group of fans from

Cameron was on hand to see the South come roaring out to score five touchdowns in the second quarter after trailing the North 7-0 in the first. Leading the series 21-11, the North was favored to win by one touchdown.

Cards Win 3rd In State Finals

Results of Cameron's Little League Cardinals bid for state baseball honors at Brownwood last week were a third place standing, a lifetime memory of three star spangled days, and only one lost sock.

The 14 Cardinal team members, Coaches Joe Lee Heltman and Joe Mondrik, Mrs. Mondrik,
Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goeke, Mr.
and Mrs. Albert Michalka and Mrs. Louis Hollas, checked into Brownwood's official Little League motel Sunday night amid the fun and confusion of about 120 boys from around the state.

All were in Brownwood to vie for the State Little League playoffs.

It was the beginning of three days of baseball, swimming and tours of Brownwood for the Cameron team. It ended Wednesday morning after a loss to Temple when Brownwood's Little League president bid farewell to the Cameron Cardinals saying "If there had been a sportsmanship award, you would have gotten it."

The Cardinals and sponsors shared five rooms on the motel's third floor, glad to have the noise of 120 exuberant boys under them instead of above.

The Cardinals took a first game defeat Monday morning and came back to win over Marfa Monday night to stay in the playoffs. "They had such a good time swimming and meeting other boys they were determined to win and stay," one parent suggested.

The Cardinals downed Odessa
Tuesday morning 7-1.

Team spirits were at a high point Tuesday night when the Cardinals met Palestine. More than 50 Cameron fans cheered them on to a 14-7 win.

Temple, who defeated Cameron 11 to 2 Wednesday morning placed second in State and Odessa took first place.

Mrs. Albert Michalka commented "The boys were all well behaved, they had fun, but when they went to their rooms they stayed there. There was lots of telephoning between the five rooms, but they all obeyed the rules set down and we were proud to be with them."

City Master Plan Due 1st Review

A joint meeting of the City Council and the Planning Commission will be held Tuesday,
August 11, at 6 p.m. in City Hall. The meeting will be open to the public.

A representative from Southwest Planners, Albritton and Associates and the Governor's office will be at the meeting to discuss Cameron's Base Studies Report.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

SchoolBoard Meets On 3th

Cameron School Board will meet Thursday, August 13 to adopt the 1970-71 budget, not August 10 as reported in Thursday's Herald.

Supt. D. R. Dodson said all interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, set for 8 p.m. at Ben Milam School.

Court Asked To Consider Election Call

Two petitions asking consolidation of Milano Independent School District with Cameron Independent School District were presented to County Judge O. B.
Harden last week. Milam County Commissioners will review the taxpayer petitions at their regular meeting Monday, and possibly set a date for a special election in the two districts.

Harden said petitions were delivered to his office by Daniel McDaniel, who lives in the Milano district, and Cameron Superintendent of Schools D. R.
Dodson. The petition from Milano carried 49 signatures asking for consolidation. The Cameron petition had 34 signatures.

Harden said twenty signatures from taxpayers in each district are required on a petition asking for school consolidation.

Last year the Milano schools registered about 360 students (340 ADA count) and employed
17 teachers and administrators.

State election laws require that a majority in each district approve the consolidation. If the consolidation election carries a second election is required to accept bonded indebtedness of each district.

Milano School District has been taxing property owners at a rate of 20 percent of actual value until 25 percent increase was voted by Milano School trustees this year. Cameron school taxes are set at 50 percent of actual property value.

The petitions last week marked the second request for a change in the Milano School District.
Property owners living near Rockdale had petitioned several years ago to be moved from the Milano School District to Rockdale. The County School Board denied the request at that time.

Harden said that since the Milano petition reached his office, two signers had requested that their names be removed. A majority of the signers live in the rim areas of the Milano
District.

Both petitions call for an election for the purpose of consolidating the Milano Independent School District with the Cameron Independent School District, "the two districts being contiguous and lying wholly within Milam County, Texas. The newly created district shall be named Cameron Consolidated Independent School District."

South Milam Producer Files 49-Barrel Potential

White Shield Oil & Gas Corporation of Tulsa, Oklahoma filed potential early this week on its
No. 1 D. H. Perry, one of two wildcats it drilled several months ago in the Milbur Field in south Milam County.

Potential figures show the No.
1 Perry produced 49 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day from the Navarro on perforations at 3,- 449 - 680 feet on 20 - 64 inch choke under 100 pounds pressure on tubing after receiving frac treatment.

The White Shield oiler is located on a 250 acre lease in D. H. Van Veighton Survey six miles south of Rockdale and about one-half mile southeast of the old General Crude No. 1 Perry, a deep smackover failure drilled in 1958.

White Shield's second well is its No. 1 W. T. Hogan located on adjoining acreage in the Van Veighton Survey. Reportedly it also is a good producer, but potential has not yet been filed on it.

The Tulsa company, according to oil patch rumor, has plans to drill another wildcat on the Perry acreage in near future.

Two other tests reportedly are being planned for the Milbur Field but will be located across the Milam line in Burleson County. They will be drilled by Keesee and Thomas, a pair of Farmington, New Mexico operators whose recent discovery, their
No. 1 Arthur Praesel on a 200 acre lease in the John C. Walker Survey, produced 56 barrels of oil per day on potential test and opened a new area in the Milbur Field.

Both of Keesee & Thomas'
new tests are located near their

No. 1 Praesel and are dry holes drilled several years ago and abandoned by other companies.

One of them is the No. 1 E.
Crump, Jr. Location is on a 276.7 acre lease in John C.
Walker Survey. This wildcat originally was drilled by Clark Oil & Refining Company and Buttes Oil & Gas Company in May, 1969 to around 2,900 feet and abandoned by them at that depth. Keesee and Thomas plan to re-enter and clean out the old hole and deepen it to 3,500 feet in search of the Navarro.

The other dry hole is the No.
1 V. Miller, located on a 50 acre lease in the same survey, which was drilled by Teton and Leonard to a total depth of 2,- 815 feet and abandoned after finding no shows. Keesee and Thomas will deepen the hole to 3,800 feet in an effort to pick up the Navarro formation.

Housing Request Deferred

An application for 50 additional housing units for Cameron has been deferred by Housing and Urban Development the Cameron Housing Authority was notified this week.

A letter from HUD officials said demands for public housing had exceeded present funding and the request for 50 additional units in Cameron had been temporarily deferred.

Fred Starnes, Cameron Housing Authority manager, said work on the 50 public housing units presently under construction was about 80 percent complete and would probably be ready for occupation in the fall.

Coming Of Age . . .

Cameron summer baseball did quite well in playoff competition, one team going to the final four in Little League state finals and another going to the regional finals in Pony League competition.

If these are not reason enough to propel, not merely put baseball back into Yoe High School sports, we see no reason to any of Cameron's sports program.

This is the second "other" sport within six months which has brought Cameron broad recognition. The other, of course, was basketball, when the Yoemen went to the AA regional for the first time in a student generation this winter.

More than 200 youngsters yearly play some kind of summer baseball. And it is good judgment to keep these youngsters playing competitive baseball after all that training and summer fun and all that enthusiasm from hundreds, if not in total thousands of spectators.

So baseball too comes into its own in Cameron. And the sport promises a good following for years to come in high school competition.

Cost Of Hurricanes . . .

Celia, the powerful hurricane that turned her fury on Corpus Christi and smaller Gulf Coast cities to the south, is one of a series of violent storms hitting Texas in a decade.

Carla is well remembered in Cameron when that blast struck the Gulf Coast in September, 1961, and sent tens of thousands inland, including more than 1,500 housed in Cameron several days.

Others include Audrey (June, 1957), Cindy (September, 1963, and Beulah (September, 1967).

Celia arrived a month early, by the normal timetable of Texas hurricanes. But her devastation was probably the worst since the Galveston storm in September, 1900, which cost thousands of lives and brought the construction of that island city's seawall. The same storm, incidentally, caused Galveston to be the first city in the country to reorganize its city government into a manager - council system, introducing professional management in a day when most small cities had mayor - council plans.

Cost in Celia's storm damage is estimated somewhere between one-half and a billion dollars. The Corpus Christi Caller-Times, for example, lost a quarter - million dollars in newsprint and had to print limited editions in San Antonio.

That is only one result of a tremendous wind that cost more than 30 lives. Towns like Aransas Pass, about 7,000, were leveled.

It is the kind of fury Gulf Coast residents anticipate in living along the Gulf of Mexico. Sometimes, it is a high cost for the advantages of sun and water.

The Diplomatic Pouch

WASHINGTON, D.C.--The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

Eagle

I would appreciate it if you would comment briefly on whether to your knowledge there is any legal prohibition on the reproduction of a form of the eagle for commercial purposes.

E.K.

Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear E.K.:

The Department of State perceives no objection to the use for any purpose of an eagle in any form, provided the design does not include the distinctive elements of that of the Great Seal of the United States.

Russian Fishing

Please get those damn Russians out of our front yard. You drive two hours to Montauk, pay $10 to fish, and come home with 15 cents worth of fish. Scup fishing was very poor this season.

W.E.C.

Dear W.E.C.:

We appreciate your concern about the poor scup

fishing this season. We have been much concerned about this situation and entered into an agreement with the Soviet Union on November 25, 1967, which hopefully will protect the interests of both American sports and commercial fishermen. This agreement is not perfect, but it has been of some help to American fishermen. We expect to discuss further fishery arrangements in the area with the Soviets shortly and have recently been conferring with American sports and commercial fishing interests and state government fishery officials on this subject. We hope that any further arrangements would offer even greater protection to American fishing interests.

Unfortunately, our catch data and scientific evidence concerning scup is not complete. Nevertheless, we will definitely seek greater protection for this most important species.

We appreciate your calling to our attention your concern in this matter.

Foreign Student Leaders

Is it true that you are in favor of permitting foreign student subversives to come to America? I am referring to Rudi Dutschke and Daniel Conn-Bendit. Rudi helped inspire the student riots in West Germany recently and Conn-Bendit was a leader in the French riots. Why would you allow these troublemakers to visit America? It puzzles me enough to write to you.

M.S.
Long Beach, Calif.

Dear M.S.:

An article on foreign student radicals which appeared in the August issue of Human Events raised questions about the possibility of their admission into the United States to attend a student conference. While several foreign student leaders participated in the National Student Association Conference, neither Dutschke nor Conn-Bendit sought visas to attend. Accordingly, the Department of State made no decision for or against granting them temporary admission to the United States.

Our nation's laws describe some 31 categories of aliens who are ineligible to come to the United States. They do not allow the exclusion of those who, though perhaps objectionable, are eligible under the law. Our laws even provide that an applicant who is technically ineligible may be permitted, by a special waiver, to come briefly to this country for purposes such as tourism, attending conferences, or performing in the arts. The granting of such a waiver is carefully considered in light of all factors bearing on the matter, and a decision is made accordingly.

The decision to admit or exclude public or controversial foreign figures found to be ineligible is normally made at a high level. The memorandum quoted in the article made no argument for a specific decision with regard to Mr. Dutschke and Mr. Conn-Bendit.

Do you have an inquiry about U.S. Foreign Policy? Send it to: "The Diplomatic Pouch" P/MS, Room 4831 U.S. Department of State Washington, D.C. 20520

You Don't Say . . .

SUBLIMATE

If you are referring to inspiring awe, deep emotion; moving. That which is noble, grand, solemn.

SUBLIME is correct for this meaning.

SUBLIMATE means to convert undesirable energies into desirable energies into desirable activities. For example if a man's criminal characteristics or energies are diverted into constructive channels his criminal activities are said to have been SUBLIMATED.

Santa Fe To Use Guard Dogs

Guard dogs will be used by Santa Fe Railway to aid its special agents in providing protective services in yard and warehouse areas, the railroad announced today.

John L. Hastings, manager of Better Freight Handling and Special Service, Chicago, said the dogs will work on a leash with handlers, mostly at night.

"We anticipate that knowledge of the dogs presence in areas where we have experienced some difficulty with malicious trespassers will act as a deterrent," he predicted.

Initially Santa Fe has secured three dogs and trained three men to work with them, and the force will be expanded in the near future.

First assignment will be in the greater Chicago area, Fort Worth-Dallas area and San Francisco Bay area, although the teams will be available for spot duty in other areas as needed.

CAMERON'S PARADE OF SPORTS

MUSIC - Have you ever listened to a great symphony orchestra or maybe a good Dixieland band? Wonderful music! But -- if you have never been on a wolf hunt on a clear, crisp night you have missed some great music. When that old lead hound strikes that wolf the music starts. Baying at every leap and bound the pack gets down to the business of catching the wolf. Something about a pack of good voiced hounds sends a thrill down a man's back. Now let's go wolf hunting with "Bo" Jenness and his friends. Jenness has been wolf hunting since he was a boy. The wolf pictured here ran for two hours and 15 minutes before he was caught near Salem. The picture was taken at night by Bo Tittsworth right after the wolf was caught. Jenness just recently lost a good hound killed by a wolf. The dog, "Smokey Joe" was sired by an outstanding wolf dog from Oklahoma. Pictured left to right, Vaughn (Bo) Jenness, Joe Kirk, Roy Mauldin of Belton, and Tim Tittsworth.

Pork Sausage Spices Hamburger Patties For Summer Cookouts

America must be the only place on earth where in the summer small boys are heard to groan "Aw, Mom -- steak again?" Actually, many outdoor cooks do fall into the habit of fixing hamburgers or steaks exclusively -- and it can become tiresome for some members of the family.

But the possibilities for main-course variety in outdoor cooking are limited only by our imaginations and palates. Entertainer Jimmy Dean -- who also raises virus-free "SPF" hogs and manufactures low-fat pork sausage in his home town of Plainview, Texas -- came up with the idea of mixing his product with hamburger meat in order to get a tastier patty for backyard cooking.

He got former Mrs. America, Joy Nofur (now a Houston television personality) to formulate a basic recipe for what has since been dubbed "Deanburgers" -- and in the process started Joy on the development of what has become a whole series of delicious indoor and outdoor dishes based on hamburger meat and pork sausage.

The idea of serving pork in the summertime, of course, used to be completely foreign to many homemakers. And -- back in the days when most hogs were garbage-fed, less healthy animals and the sciences of packing and transporting meat were not as advanced as today -- there may have been some justification for making the taste of pork a fall-through-spring pleasure only.

But this is 1970. The meat-producing industry has come a long way, and the pork sausages available to you today are a far cry from what your mother could buy. The ones marked "SPF" on their labels are particularly advanced. These initials stand for "Specific Pathogen Free," and refer to the absence of disease-causing forms of virus in the animals that went into the sausage.

In a classic SPF hog-raising operation the animals used to start the herd are taken by Caesarian section (to break the mother-to-offspring transfer of virus) and raised in a sterile environment, never touching outside, germ-laden ground. They and their equally virus-free offspring are fed carefully-calculated combinations of grain, supplements and vitamins. They receive appropriate injections of vaccines exactly on schedule, and live in air-conditioned comfort. They are extremely healthy, and build good, solid meat quickly. Meat that can end up in such family-pleasing dishes as these:

MILE AFTER MILE of 3/8 inch redraw rod is wound, packed shipped, and formed into various kinds of aluminum conductor. Customers for this product don't want slivers or wire that is not round. (Alcoa Photo)

Alcoa's RW Sets Record Redraw Rod Production

The month of July saw Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works wrap up a plant record in the production of 3/8 inch redraw rod -- used in the highly competitive electrical conductor market.

According to Production Manager H. A. Bower: "We are extremely pleased with the increase in demand for this product, coming at a time when competition for aluminum customers is quite heavy."

The substantial increase in orders came because efforts of Rockdale Alcoa's proved to the company that the local plant could produce quality rod at a competitive cost.

Most of Rockdale's July record production of redraw rod went to the company's Marshall (Texas) Works; however, a substantial amount went directly to a customer in Mexico.

Rockdale Works 3/8 inch redraw rod is used mainly in insulated low voltage wire or high voltage bare cable applications and is part of Alcoa's directed effort to penetrate markets previously dominated by conductors made of other metals.

Aluminum is particularly desirable in products that distribute, control, and consume power because of the conductance-weight ratio advantage of aluminum over copper; and, because users can rely on the stable source of aluminum supply.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M. D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Professional Training

Intensified training in the prevention and treatment of drug abuse is an essential component of the President's expansion of Federal programs to fight this devastating problem.

In a major aspect of its professional training in mental health and related fields, the National Institute of Mental Health is accelerating its training activities in drug abuse with supplemental funding of $1,000,000 in fiscal year 1970.

Four areas for intensive training were established:

... Training of professional workers and allied assistants to work in the drug field;

... Training of health and social service personnel to provide counsel and advice to people who misuse or abuse drugs;

... Preparation of innovative training materials for teachers who are working in the attack on drug abuse; and

... Development and dissemination of professional materials for practicing members of the various health, education, and welfare professions.

Priority projects in the intensified effort include four-week training courses, stressing classroom and in-the-field clinical training, with the courses held at four specialized training centers attached to community treatment facilities.

Another program involves short-term or continuing education courses designed to enable 1,000 key health personnel to obtain special training.

Films, other audio-visual materials, tapes, guides, and resource books for teachers are also being produced as part of the program. These are for distribution in cooperation with the Office of Education through the newly created National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information.

In addition to materials for school teachers, the program includes the production and dissemination of materials geared to the needs of professional workers in health and social agencies.

This supplemental program is aimed to help step up the overall attack on drug abuse. It represents, however, only a small component of the overall professional training program in the field of drug abuse supported by cooperating Federal departments and agencies. The total program is providing skilled manpower which is of essential importance to solving the drug abuse problem.

Kubiak To Preview Legislation

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale will address the Calvert Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, August 11, in Calvert. He will speak on "What's Ahead for the 62nd Legislature."

Some of the controversial bills to be introduced early in the session will include:

1. - a bill to provide aid to private and parochial schools.

2. - a bill to re-structure the property tax assessments for school districts in the State of Texas.

3. - a bill to minimize the punishment for possessors of marijuana and increase punishment for the pushers thereof.

4. - a bill to allow teachers to negotiate lifetime contracts.

5. - a bill to liberalize abortion laws in Texas.

6. - a bill to require insurance companies to use investment income in computing automobile insurance rates.

7. - a bill to provide equal rights for women.

Summer Chefs

When the children are out of school for summer vacation, let them help cook. They'll enjoy fixing their own lunch when a tasty but easy recipe is provided! Let them slice frankfurters in thin circles and places on bread slices spread with butter, margarine or mustard. Next, the sandwiches are topped with cheese slices, either American or Swiss, before they go under the broiler until the cheese is bubbly hot.

Frankly, It's Time to Use Versatile Franks in a Variety of Novel, Delicious Ways

Hot Dog Month may happen every July but that's no reason for the same few frankfurter dishes to happen to come to the table. Variety is limitless since the frankfurter makes happy combinations with so many other foods.

For three new frankfurter ideas, Reba Staggs, home economist for the National Live Stock and Meat Board, suggests trying the following recipes. One is a tasty but easy take-off on the pizza; another combines chopped frankfurters, cucumber, green pepper and almonds on a bun. The third is a concoction comprising the traditional frank and sauerkraut pair with new seasoning.

Frankfurter Pizzas
1 pound frankfurters, cut into 1/4-inch slices
5 large hamburger buns or English muffins
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 clove garlic, minced
1/2 teaspoon sweet basil
1/2 teaspoon leaf oregano
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Split buns or muffins and toast cut side. Combine tomato sauce, garlic, basil, oregano and mushroom stems and pieces. Add frankfurters. Spoon 1/3 cup mixture on each toasted half. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 10 minutes. 5 servings.

South Seas Sandwich
8 to 10 frankfurters, finely chopped
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/4 cup peeled, chopped cucumber
2 tablespoons toasted slivered almonds
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 tablespoons catsup
6 frankfurter buns
Combine all ingredients except buns. Mix well. Spread mixture between buns, allowing about 1/4 cup per bun. Wrap each bun in aluminum foil. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) 10 minutes. 6 sandwiches.

Barbecued Franks-Kraut
8 to 10 frankfurters,

scored spiral fashion
2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
3/4 cup chili sauce
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (27 ounces) sauerkraut, drained
Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and green pepper and cook until tender. Add frankfurters and brown lightly. Combine chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and salt. Add to frankfurters. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Spoon sauerkraut into 2-quart casserole.

Kerns pleaded guilty to passing forged checks to Brookshire Bros. Store and Piggly Wiggly Store in Rockdale and to Safeway Store in Cameron. He has also been convicted of the same offense in McLennan and Bell Counties.

Joe Grabener of Rockdale was assessed a two - year probated sentence after he pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with driving while intoxicated - subsequent offense. Judge W. C. Wallace set his fine at $350 plus court costs.

Also assessed a two - year probated sentence was James William Riley of San Antonio. The 17 year old pleaded guilty to the offense of felony theft of an automobile. His sentence included payment of $50 restitution. Supervision of his probation was transferred to Bexar County.

On Monday, August 3, Doyle Buchanan of Rockdale received a two - year probated sentence, including $100 restitution to be paid in $10 installments beginning September 1. Buchanan pleaded guilty to the offense of burglary.

Walter Homer Snow Jr., who received a four - year probated sentence for possession of marijuana in February of this year, has been arrested in Austin and charged with possession of narcotics.

The County Attorney has filed a motion asking the District Judge to revoke Snow's probation and a hearing on this motion is set for Friday, August 29, Henderson said.

IS IT A BIRD? A PLANE? No, it's Carroll Kennon near the top of the 115-foot radio tower he was installing in Dr. R. M. Tittsworth's back yard last week. The new tower will give the local veterinarian an increased range for his two-way radio, "maybe to Australia" as one workman quipped.

Occupations Now Open To Women Apprentices

WASHINGTON

"Why Not Be An Apprentice?" is the question put to young women in a new Department of Labor leaflet prepared by the Women's Bureau.

"We are excited about this leaflet which is part of our program to increase the number of women in apprenticeships," Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Koontz, Director of the Women's Bureau, said.

"In cooperation with the Bureau of Apprenticeship Training, we are working to interest employers, labor organizations and prospective trainees in opportunities for women in apprenticeships which traditionally have been reserved for men. There was a 72 percent increase in the number of women in apprenticeship programs registered with Manpower Administration in 1969."

Present - day technology is creating job opportunities unheard of before for women apprentices in the skilled trades and in technician and service occupations, the leaflet reports.

Women are in more than 60 occupations out of the 370 offering apprenticeship training toward a career as a skilled worker. These include pharmaceutical laboratory technician, gyro repairer, dental laboratory technician, electronic computer repairer, aircraft instrument mechanic, compositor, baker, barber, tailor, upholsterer, dry-cleaner, and chef.

Apprentices receive a combination of on-the-job training and related classroom instruction, and at the end of the training period -- generally 2 to 4 years -- are skilled workers, or journeymen.

While trainees learn and work they also earn. The starting salary is about half the wage paid the skilled worker in the particular industry, and a pay raise is guaranteed every 6 months. During the last half year of training, an apprentice receives at least 90 percent of the journeyman's basic wage.

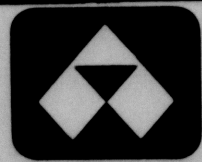

Copies of "Why Not Be An Apprentice?" are available at 10 cents each, with a 25 percent discount on orders of 100 or more, from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.
